A Project of Jeevana Samridhi

Jeevana Samridhi (Reg. No. 2006/409) is a registered social charitable trust, founded by a group of visionary professionals. The trust was established in response to the heart-wrenching realities of suffering and deprivation, both natural and manmade, that we see all around us. This public charitable trust is dedicated to providing channels of solidarity and support to the most vulnerable sections of society, regardless of caste or creed.

EDUCATION IS EVERY CHILD'S RIGHT

Education is the basic fundamental right of every child! When a child is denied this right due to financial constraints, the best possible response is to accompany them with all possible means.

'Outreach Child Support' is the positive response of a group of young people against the denial of a child's basic right to education. Accompanying them in their journey of education, our wider intention is a holistic development of their identity.

The intended beneficiaries are school-going students all over India. Each child is provided a financial aid every month, to meet their education expenses. Over the past years, more than 13,000 children have fulfilled their educational dream through this project.

THE MASTERPLAN

Beneficiaries are selected through direct application or recommendation of an OCS Volunteer.

Project volunteers are assigned to manage the project in different parts of India, from screening applications to following up on beneficiaries in their respective areas.

Extraordinarily talented students are offered suitable options.

In summer, value-based camps and gatherings are organized for all beneficiary children.
